

FOIBLES OF FASHION

Chop Suey Pickles.
One peck of green tomatoes, six large onions, six large green peppers, one cabbage. Chop the tomatoes and cabbage, letting them stand over night, with two small cups of salt each. Strain and wash thoroughly before adding the onions and peppers, the seeds of which must be removed. It will be too peppery. Chop onions and peppers, place all in a preserving jar with five cents' worth of each of the following spices: Cinnamon, cloves, celery seed, and allspice; two pounds of brown sugar, one quart of cider vinegar, or more if it gets too thick. Cook slowly for several hours.

Bowlknots of Artificial Flowers.
A pretty form of decoration, now the craze in Paris, is bowlknots of artificial flowers on ball gowns. For instance, take a gown of white tulle, with a tiny vest of rosette silk and three black velvet bows, above which are tiny tulle platings. A wreath of rosettes lies against the neck and in the center of the front is a huge bowlknot of rosettes, hanging just as a ribbon would. Sashes are also made of flowers, and are dainty and rather new.

Velvet and Cloth.
If you are ground like coffee or crushed immediately before hot water is poured on it, it will be nearly twice as strong.

To Launder Laces.
In laundering battening and renellance laces it is better not to wash them. Instead, dip a white darning cloth in the ironing board, and over this put a clean white piece of cheesecloth. Pin the lace down carefully at all the scallops and points, and stand the board near a radiator or register where the heat will dry it quickly. The results are far more satisfactory than using an iron, and the lace will last twice as long.

Corn Oysters.
To a pint of corn pulp add the well-beaten yolks of two eggs, two tablespoonfuls of flour, half a teaspoonful of salt and a saltspoon of black pepper; mix well, and when the fat for frying is ready, add the stiffly beaten whites. Drop, oyster shape, from a spoon into hot and brown on both sides. Spread with butter and eat hot.

Gloves, Vests and Chains.
One of the most stylish gloves shown is of very fine quality glove glass kid, with two tones, three strand embroidery on the back.

Another smart glove is a gauntlet affair of pique tulle, with two tones embroidery on the back and with the gauntlets, which are two inches wide, elaborately embroidered in colored silks or tulle.

The pastel shades, so long shown, have been supplanted by gloves of far more brilliant shades and, oddly enough, the pastel shades are far less brilliant than those shown for ordinary day wear.

Few novelties are shown this season in vests. A pretty mesh veil shows a flat dot or spot in the same color woven into the veil, varying from three-eighths of an inch to twice that width in diameter.

Sets of coral chains—one for the neck, the other for the wrist—are seen. The beads are very small and are worn on the street as well as elsewhere.

Tablès Finish many a bodice back.
Plush is much used in smart headgear.

That Frenchy little velvet bow is being overworked.
Warm corsets reign supreme in the complete wardrobe.

A curious roll on the crushed straw-berry under is favored.
Hand embroidery on tucks is dainty for the debutante's frock.

The thinnest fans are of penocok feathers with tortoise-shell sticks. Skirt flounces caught down at the bottom in puff effect are new—old.

Every gown has its shoe or slipper to match and the stocking follows suit.

Exquisitely lovely are the pale green art nouveau combs with jeweled floral tops.

The blouse with strapped front and a long silk scarf pulled through is popular.

Hats of moss, with clusters of red berries tucked in the green, are a lovely novelty.

Velvet blouses, both simple and elaborate, are to be taken into consideration this year.

Ideas From Paris.
Women are giving closer attention to the harmony of line and idea of hat and coat this winter than ever before.

The fact that the Parisienne of wealth and taste this season frequently chooses to make herself the exact reproduction of some old painting, every detail of costume being carried out, having its influence on the favored mortals whose means or opportunities will not permit of such lavish costuming.

Quite naturally the fashion of the season demand in headwear the sweeping ostrich plume.

Brown Velvet Waist.
Blouse of brown velvet, made with a box pleat in the middle of the front and gathered to a yoke trimmed with soutache and buttons.

The little pockets are trimmed with the soutache and buttons and with a fancy galloon. The latter also trims the old revers, or cravat ends, which are bordered with a narrow lace ruff, but the result is not known, according to reports from Tokyo.

Wisconsin Organization Will Endeavor to Secure Protection.
Speakers of national reputation appear in the program which has just been completed for the thirteenth annual convention of the Wisconsin Cheesemakers' association, which will be held at Milwaukee on Jan. 4, 5, 6, 1905. A mammoth cheese exhibit will prove a great interest to the members of the organization.

"Our association is the largest of its kind in America, if not in the world," said Secretary U. S. Hays, in speaking of the coming convention. "The purpose of the association is to educate its members for better work in the art of making cheese, the care and management of factories, the sale of their products, and the best out of the incompetency in the business of cheesemaking. Another object is to demand a thorough education and a rigid enforcement of such laws as will protect the manufacturer of honest dairy products against undue competition from dishonest and dangerous imitations, and to unite the rank and file of its members in instituting a powerful crusade against the practice of poisoning milk at cheese factories by weight, with or without regard to the butter fat content."

"No branch of agriculture in the state has made greater progress than the cheesemaking industry during the past year, and it has been the best year in the history of our organization."

"The cheese product of Wisconsin today is superior to that made in any former period in the history of the industry. Wisconsin produces more than one-fourth of the entire cheese product of the United States. Over 1,800 cheese factories produce over 90,000,000 pounds of cheese a year."

CHEESE RECORD IS SMASHED.
Fond du Lac Dairy Board Reports $365,000 as Year's Income.
The annual report of Secretary J. W. Clark of the Fond du Lac dairy board shows that approximately $355,000 was paid for cheese sold in the county during the season. The sales on the board amounted to 45,865 boxes, against 23,757 last year, a gain of nearly 75 per cent. Fond du Lac buyers took 29 per cent of the output and Sheboygan buyers 71 per cent. The highest price paid was Nov. 28, 11 1/2 cents for twins and 12 1/2 cents for daisies. The lowest price for twins was June 5, 7 cents, for daisies June 13, 7 1/2 cents. Much of the cheese made in the county has been sold by contract and is not included in the sales on the board. It is estimated that the output of the factories of the county for the year was 104,855 boxes, or 4,274,260 pounds, which at the average price of the board, would amount to about $965,000, or $1,000 for each day of the year.

State May Make Antitoxin.
One of the measures to be discussed by the legislature will be a bill authorizing the state university, in connection with the state agricultural department, to make antitoxin for the treatment of diphtheria. Senator J. H. Noble of Eau Claire, who is a physician, is looking up statistics and reports, and will introduce the measure. "The plan of making antitoxin has been tried in other states very successfully," he said, "notably in Massachusetts. The supply of antitoxin is controlled by a trust, which has so increased the price that it has become a burden."

McCord Leaves $200,000.
The will of former Mayor James McCord was filed for probate at about $200,000, although the testator makes no estimate in it. The property is to be divided into a trust to be administered without division until 1915, when it is to be divided equally between the widow and the three children—Horace, Allen and Miss Agnes McCord. L. C. Colman and G. W. Burton are made trustees.

Continue Cow Case.
The case of Carl Boehm of Janesville, charged with having attempted to kill Charles Homan because he laughed at his cow, was continued, bail being fixed at $1,000.

Lumber Company Will Remain.
The Murphy Lumber company announces that, contrary to rumors, it will remain in Green Bay for at least two more seasons. There is lumber enough to warrant this.

New Interurban Company.
A company is being organized in Kenosha for the building of the proposed electric railway from Kenosha to Lake Geneva. It is to have a capital of $25,000.

Coal Pile is on Fire.
Coal on the dock of the Lehigh Valley Coal company at Superior caught fire on Monday. The coal was shifted until the fire was confined to a pile of about 5,000 tons, of which 1,000 to 2,000 tons may be a total loss.

Measles Closes University.

Water Power is Reduced.
Appleton mill owners along the water power of the Fox river have been notified that the water for hydraulic purposes will be cut to 75 per cent of the first flow. This order will necessitate some of the paper mills using steam for operative power.

Barber-Mayer is Acquitted.
It took the jury in a Kenosha justice court just ten minutes to decide that the state barber law was not what it should be, and Mayor James Gorman, who had been arraigned on warrants issued by the state board of health for not having a license, was acquitted. Gorman's attorney raised the point that the law was unreasonable, and on this the decision of the jury was based. It is possible that another effort will be made to amend the law, but it is claimed that in this case his attorney will attack the constitutionality of the law.

Senator Johnson is Not to Leave.
Reports have been sent out that State Senator G. W. Johnson will leave Racine and locate in California. While it is true that Senator Johnson has sold his residence and reports are current that he will leave Racine, there is no probability that he will remove to California and make that his permanent home inside of a year or two.

Gets Judgment for $2,000.
Iva D. Gray, daughter of a well-known farmer, brought suit for the elopee against Dr. J. A. Halland, a physician, for $2,000 damages. It was alleged that he had promised to wed her and failed to keep the compact. The jury brought in a verdict for $2,000 in favor of the plaintiff.

To Number Fire Companies.
On account of jealousy no more Racine fire engines or hook and ladder trucks will be named after persons. Names now painted on the machines will probably be taken off and numbers substituted.

Baker Pays $20 Fine.
L. F. Kutter of Appleton, state bakery inspector, caused the arrest of Peter Jeniches of Racine, who had been warned three times to clean up his bakeryroom. Jeniches was fined $20 and costs.

Clears the Coast.
A man called at the home of James Morrill, Appleton, recently and informed Mrs. Morrill that relatives at Fond du Lac were severely ill. The Morrills immediately proceeded to Fond du Lac, and, it is said, the informant took this opportunity of ransacking the house.

Novel Lamp Shades.
Printed nets make charming lamp shades. The odds and ends of a new evening frock may be utilized in manufacturing a shade.

Fancy velvet jacket and cloth skirt.

In black, with vest of white cloth and lace in sleeves.

Cloudy Weather Toilets.

There are no more rainy-day costumes.

But in their place have come the cloudy weather toilets, the dust coats, the ready-to-wear coats and the evening and automobile dresses. These are for wind and for weather and they are to wear when one walks, drives, or braves the elements.

Many of these bad weather gowns are made in such a way that they can be worn for other occasions. They are also for a necessary promenade, and they are almost good enough for informal ensembles. Indeed, it is difficult to discover the dividing line between evening and cloudy weather togs.

A handsome suit of Panama cloth, with three-quarter coat of handsome broadcloth, is quite as elegant as half of the suits that are made up elaborately and labeled evening costumes.

Even in the matter of cloudy weather gowns there is tendency toward the skirt and coat suits, the two-piece suits. And one notices that there is a return also to the belts. The two-piece suit with coat and skirt and belt is handy for all outdoor wear.

Sleeves Running Riot.
The variety in sleeves continues to grow. The selection of midland's sleeve is a point that, of all others, confuses and distracts her. The fashionable sleeve of today may be close fitting from the hand to the shoulder. It may have a full shoulder cap. It may be an enormous leg of mutton. It may be finished at the elbow with frills and bows, or it may have a long gauntlet cuff, or a shorter one. It may be a puffed shoulder cap with a lace undersleeve, or it may be nothing and everything all cast together in one mass, boasting no particular fashion, but displaying all the grace in the world.

The long redingote, full of skirt, tight of bodice, and puffed as to sleeves, and draped as to lapels, has in its short semi-season evolution almost ceased to be a coat, and has instead become a gown. A beautiful model is shown in blue velvet, with front fastens very low in front, with but three buttons. The skirt is almost absurdly full, falling in numberless folds to the ankles. The sleeve is full at the top and fastens closely about the forearm with tiny jeweled buttons. The skirt of this is trimmed and flounced and otherwise provided with fullness to match the redingote.

Silver and Gold.
Gilt and silver colors are very smart for dress accessories. For instance, the very newest belt for use with silk waists is the tinsel braided or silver one. These are at least four inches broad, and when fastened in front give a pointed giraffe effect in the back. They are closed with gilt or silver frogs and have gilt or silver fringe tassels on the ends.

This same idea is carried out in their ornaments, the most exquisite things are shown in the shops in gilt and silver flowers. They look like gauze, but are made of chiffon, which is dipped in gilt or silver tinsel and the ornament is made. Roses, clematis, orchids, laurel leaf tiaras and butterfies are greatly favored for the chic evening collar.

A week's solution of alum or soda will remove all colors in a dusty carpet.

Nails driven first into a bar of soap will not split furniture or delicate woodwork.

Clean plaster ornaments by dipping in cold starch, brushing the powder off lightly when dry.

If the plaster is cracked or open if the precaution is taken to put a pull of water into each directly after use.

Equal parts of skimmed milk and water warmed will remove fly specks from varnished woodwork or furniture.

If tea is ground like coffee or crushed immediately before hot water is poured on it, it will be nearly twice as strong.

To Launder Laces.
In laundering battening and renellance laces it is better not to wash them. Instead, dip a white darning cloth in the ironing board, and over this put a clean white piece of cheesecloth. Pin the lace down carefully at all the scallops and points, and stand the board near a radiator or register where the heat will dry it quickly. The results are far more satisfactory than using an iron, and the lace will last twice as long.

Drop, oyster shape, from a spoon into hot and brown on both sides. Spread with butter and eat hot.

A Tonic for Old People

Adds Years to Life, Puts Life Into Years. Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food, the Great Blood and Flesh Maker, Brain and Nerve Tonic.

Keeps you from growing old by keeping your vital forces. When the human machinery begins to wear out, people grow old and go into decline and decay, the circulation poor, the blood watery, the circulation poor, and the nerve forces shattered and weak, showing that certain essential elements of life are being exhausted from the blood and nerves. The exhaustion usually begins with cold and numb hands and feet. The stomach, bowels and bladder lose their power, often becoming paralyzed. You grow weak and feeble and your vital forces so low that you begin to see that your health is being undermined. Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food increases the action of the heart and the circulation of the blood, and builds up the system by replacing the same substance to the blood and nerves that have been worn out. Expect Good Skating.

Some of the boys and men who enjoy outdoor sports are preparing to have some good skating the coming winter. They will clean a large sized space on the ice and by flooding it when necessary will keep it in such condition that this exhilarating sport may be enjoyed at any time. A commencement was made last Friday when a space 120x300 feet was scraped off and the first engine secured to floor the place. When this was partly done, however, some of the city officials objected to the use of the engine for this purpose and it was taken away. The boys have overcome the difficulty by securing a pump and traction engine which will do the work equally well. The pond will be enlarged until it is twice the size it was last week, and this will give ample accommodations to all that will care to skate in this city. The movement is a good one and should meet the approval of all, rather than discouragement.

Meeting Again Adjourned.

The meeting of the Electric and Water company which was to have been held on Friday evening failed to materialize owing to the fact that there was not a quorum present. The roll was called but a majority of the stock failed to respond, so an adjournment was taken until the 4th of January.

It has been suggested by one of the stockholders that the lights about town be extinguished the night of the meeting, which might possibly remind the stockholders that a meeting was to be held that evening. The usual excuse that is made is that of forgetfulness, which would probably not be the case if this method were pursued.

Arrested on a Serious Charge.

Ernest Shriener was brought to this city from Cloquet, Minn., on Monday to answer to a charge of attempted rape. He was taken before Justice Cooper on Monday, but an adjournment was taken until next Thursday to enable the interested parties to secure witnesses. The complaining witness is Jos. Negalski, the girl in the case being a daughter of his. The crime is alleged to have taken place in the town of Sigel on the 16th of November, at the time of a political rally.

Shriener left about the time a warrant was sworn out for his arrest, and being in Minnesota when discovered, it was necessary to get out requisition papers to return him to Wisconsin.

Officers Elected.

At the regular meeting last Saturday, Dec. 10 the Woodman Circle elected the following officers:
Guardian—Mrs. Anna Grignon.
Advocate—Mrs. Gina Knudson.
Attendant—Mrs. Minnie Green.
Banker—Mrs. Cora Clauson.
Clerk—Mrs. L. F. Kruger.
Magician—Mrs. Anna Pillar.
Inner Sentinel—Mrs. Bertha Looff.
Outer Sentinel—Mrs. Anna Henry.
Managers—Mrs. Jane Grignon, Mrs. Anna Pillar and Mrs. L. F. Kruger.

Physician—Dr. Pannaville.

Death of Donald Clark.

Dr. and Mrs. Clark are mourning the loss of their son Donald, who died Sunday morning at 1:30 o'clock, after a lengthy illness from bowel trouble. The deceased was born on June 20th, 1892 and was consequently two and one-half years old. The funeral was held on Tuesday from the Episcopal church, Rev. Blakelee conducting the services. The parents have the sympathy of the community in their sad affliction.

Rose-Huber.

Will Rose of Dexterville and Miss Rose Huber of Saratoga were married on December 15th at the home of Moruan Woods, the ceremony being performed by Justice Ellery Lee of Saratoga. The young couple departed the next day for their future home in Dexterville. They have with them the best wishes of the community.

Grand Rapids Business College Will Open Jan. 3, 1905.

A number of students have made arrangements to enter the Grand Rapids Business College in both the day and evening sessions. It now appears that this new college will be well patronized and will have a successful career from the first.

The students who enter this college will be especially fortunate in having a teacher like Mr. Hayward at the head of the school as he has had valuable experience both as a teacher and office man and can thus not only give the theory but the actual practice of office work.

Prof. W. W. Williams who is director of the new college will give much of his time to securing positions and the business side of the new college. This brings to the Grand Rapids college an opportunity which other schools do not have. Prof. Williams has schools at Auriga and Appleton and his students have the advantage of this larger acquaintance among business men to secure positions.

Many of his students are now holding the best positions in the largest cities of the U. S. including New York, Chicago, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, St. Paul, etc. The course of study in this new college is more modern than is usually found in Business Colleges and is the same course as is found in the School of Commerce of Lawrence University. This course was prepared for a Chicago Business College by Prof. Williams and his brother and is now published by Prof. Williams.

The rates of tuition are 25 to 35 per cent cheaper than is usually charged in Business Colleges. These cheaper rates are possible on account of the aid of the City Council and the Business Men's Association of Grand Rapids.

New furniture and typewriters will arrive the coming week and the rooms in the Library Building will be placed in attractive condition for college work.

Many young people near Grand Rapids can take the trains in and out each day and attend this new college. With the excellent R. R. facilities of Grand Rapids this is possible and practical. Young people who have completed the public schools throughout the county should plan to enter this school. Many employ with relatives or secure work to pay for board and room. Let the people of Grand Rapids write to young people throughout the county and urge upon them the value of this course of study which can be had so near at home.

Want a New Ballot.

The general sentiment among the newspapers, whose editors have given the matter any thought, seems to be that the ballot that is voted at the general election should be of different form. No more making a cross at the head of the ticket and letting the whole thing slide then regardless of who is on it. Some have suggested that in case of a national election there be three ballots, one for national, one for state and one for county officers. Others think that the names of the candidates for each office should be placed under each other, and the voter be empowered to single out and vote for whichever man he wanted for the office.

There is no question but what this scheme would better show the desire of the voter and that there would be a better expression of the will of the people. It might be argued that the new method would make it harder for the illiterate man to vote and there is no question but what it would. However, the man who cannot read has many disadvantages to contend with, but there is probably nobody who appreciates the fact less than he does. When a man makes the statement that he cannot read to a crowd of people, he is the least surprised one in the lot and if questioned on the subject will probably make the statement that he never saw the advantage of being able to read, anyway.

The matter has been taken up by Gov. LaFollette, and he says that if he has any voice in the matter he will see that a different ballot is before the people before another voting time comes round.

CHRISTMAS AT THE CHURCHES

The Young People to be Royally Entertained as Usual.

The great annual festival and season of rejoicing for the little ones is near at hand once more, and the indications are that they will be entertained in a manner that will make the occasion one long to be remembered by them.

At the Congregational church there will be a Christmas tree at which Santa Claus himself will officiate. A short program has also been prepared for the occasion, and it is expected that every little one can be sent home with something to remind him of the occasion.

At the Second Moravian church there will also be a Christmas tree with a program by the little ones. This part will be held at 8:45 Saturday evening and on Sunday the usual services will be held.

The Methodist Sunday school is also preparing for a jolly time on Christmas eve. There will be a tree, with a program by the scholars, with appropriate music and readings, which will make up an evening that is an ideal one for the youngsters.

The Episcopal church will have a Christmas tree for the Sunday school scholars, with music, but no program. The Baptists will have a tree at their rooms with appropriate program for the little ones.

Do not Comply with Law.

Believing you are interested in giving your readers such information as will prove of benefit to them, I desire to inform you that the following insurance companies and agents have been recently flooding this state with their literature with a view of securing applications for insurance. Not one of these companies or agents has complied with the law or is licensed to transact business in this state.

Companies.

The Reserve Fire & Marine, Chicago, Ill.

Merchants Fire Association of America, 181 La Salle St., Chicago, Ill.

Richmond Fire, Richmond, Va.

Equity Fire, Toronto, Canada.

Canadian Fire Underwriters, Toronto, Canada.

Federal Lloyds, 159 La Salle St., Chicago, Ill.

The Phoenix Underwriters, New York City.

The German Union Ins. Co., Wilmington, Del.

Hartford Fire, New York.

Agents.

W. M. Umbelstock & Co., 159 La Salle St., Chicago, Ill.

Sandmeyer & Schroeder, 155 La Salle St., Chicago, Ill.

Harry E. Schroeder & Co., 153 La Salle St., Chicago, Ill.

C. H. Thompson, 185 La Salle St., Chicago, Ill.

Louis H. Gostline & Co., 159 La Salle St., Chicago, Ill.

D. S. C. Mooney, 159 La Salle St., Chicago, Ill.

Charles Brock-Jones & Co., 159 La Salle St., Chicago, Ill.

Most of these companies and agents have no standing in their own state and are defrauding the state of Wisconsin of the taxes due it. It is an injustice to licensed agents and companies to encourage and support companies or agents that do not comply with the law.

In order that the readers of your paper may be protected against the encroachments of these unauthorized agents and companies, I appeal to you to give such notice to the contents of this letter as you may deem proper, so that the attention of your readers may be called to the fact that a policy held by them in any one of the above companies is of no value so far as protection from the Department of Insurance is concerned. For several months the Insurance Department had heard nothing of the writing of wild insurance, but during the past few weeks the Department has received numerous circular letters that have been sent to citizens of this state by the agents and companies above named. Respectfully,
Zeno M. Host, Com. of Ins.

Town killers may be properly classified as follows: First those who go out of town to do their shopping; second, those who want a quiet town instead of one of push and bustle; third, those who imagine that they own the town; fourth, those who despise public spirited men; fifth, those who oppose everything that does not appear to benefit them; sixth, those who originate within themselves; seventh, those who seek to injure the credit or reputation of an individual.

Somebody who wants to explain what the editorial "we" signifies says its meaning varies to suit the circumstance. For instance, when you read that "we expect our wife home today," we refer to the editor-in-chief; when it's "we are a little late with our work" it includes the whole office force, even the devil and the devil's crew. If "we are having a boom," the town is meant; "we received 1,700,000 immigrants last year" and it embraces the nation, but "we have hog cholera in our midst" only refers to the illness of a man who takes the paper two or three years without paying for it.—Ex.

Marshfield News.—Ed. Lynch, the retentive and jovial lumberman of Grand Rapids, with domain and mill at Milladore was registered at the Hotel Blodgett Tuesday and the next morning left for Milladore. Ho will buy from farmers this winter and with what he will cut himself expects to have a million look at the mill when the sawing season begins. The Milladore Lumber Co's mill at that place will not put in a stock this winter.

—Mrs. S. Marshall is slowly but steadily regaining her health under the treatment of Dr. McElwee, the successful Chicago specialist. When Mr. Marshall decided to consult Dr. McElwee some time ago, he had little hope that it could result in more than what other doctors had accomplished, or rather failed to accomplish. But it has turned out differently and he now sees his wife, who had been an invalid for years, fast recovering her strength from day to day.

It was a complicated case, heart and stomach and nerves being affected, but one after another, the symptoms are all passing and soon Mrs. Marshall will be enjoying perfect health. The family are rejoicing that they consulted Dr. McElwee when they did because it would soon have been too late.

Flower Blooms Forever.
Santa Rosa, Cal., Dec. 13.—Monday it was reported that one of Luther Burbank's greatest achievements in the evolution of plant life is the "flowerless cactus."

Here is something even more wonderful in the realm of flowers. Just think of an ever-blooming flower—one that, after it has been plucked from your flower beds and arranged in bouquets in your drawing room, will remain just as radiant for all time, winter and summer alike.

This is Burbank's greatest achievement in bringing to perfection an "ever-blooming" flower during the present year as the result of another of those tireless experiments of years on the part of the greatest botanical scientist the world has ever known.

This is his first introduction of an immortal flower.

Do Birds Enjoy Their Own Songs? It may well be doubted if birds are musical connoisseurs or have anything like human appreciation of their own or of each other's songs. My reason for thinking so is this: I have heard a bobolink with a defective instrument so that its song was broken and inarticulate in parts, and yet it sang with as much apparent joy and abandon as any of its fellows. I have also heard a hermit thrush with a similar defect or impediment, and yet it too, appeared to sing entirely to its own satisfaction. It would be very interesting to know if these poor singers found mates as readily as their more gifted brothers.

If they did the Darwinian theory of "sexual selection" in such matters, according to which the flier songster would carry off the female, would fall to the ground. Yet it is certain that it is during the mating and breeding season that these "song combats" occur, and the nature of the female would seem to be the matter in dispute. Whether or not it be expressive of actual jealousy or rivalry, we have no other words to apply to it.—John Burroughs in Harper's Magazine.
